London, Nov. 4. (125 p. m.)—There were nearly 2,000 women in Serbia's army when I left and more women soldiers were being organized," said Dr. Gratch, a Serbian army doctor now in London today. "The women are not in special battalions. Some of them wear the complete uniform of a soldier for the sake of comfort, while others wear skirts with a blue sash. The younger women go with their brothers or husbands. The women are of every class of the population and we cannot prevent them from serving. They insure the men, with whom they march side by side, and with whom they eat and sleep shoulder to shoulder in the former Premier Venizelos.

The women are not afraid. Not only in Serbia is afraid and the women in the ranks do not lose their nerve under fire.

"We realize the great power of our friends in the war. Every soldier feels that we are only a part of a world army, and if it is necessary that our army shall be lost—well, it is only a part. There is time yet to save Serbia, but assistance for her cannot come too quickly."

London, Nov. 4. (125 p. m.)—While the Russians are fighting doggedly to keep the war open for their return to Montenegro, their French-British allies are hastening to end their presence still in Macedonia where according to official reports they have passed a review on the front.

The Serbian army is retreating steadily toward the central districts.

The only success for the Serbians obtained by Serbia is the along the Strymon River where the Bulgarians have been driven back toward Pella to "superior forces," but the invaders now are only troops and a few miles from the temporary Serbian capital.

From Bucharest comes a report that the Russians are concentrating great forces of the port of Trieste, Trieste, from which place they are expected to make a direct invasion of Bulgarian territory. Trieste also is an interpretation of the internationalization of the river Danube, friendly to Russia, by which men and supplies can be transported over the river and tributaries.

In southern Serbia the Bulgarians who are marching on Monastir are being held in check near Prilep, about twenty-five miles northwest of Monastir, a Salmoni dispatch states.

Premier Zaimis of Greece, after the defeat of his government in the chamber by a vote of 147 to 114 asked a suspension of the chamber, work until a new cabinet was formed.

Prussia, Nov. 4. (Via London, 8, 10)—The first public meeting of the new Society for Promoting Mutual Friendship Between Russia and America was held yesterday evening. The large hall in which the meeting was held was crowded.

The general trend of the meeting, which was warmly applauded, was to show that America is able to exert great influence upon the war because of her great power and that Russia could profit from a study of American ideas and policies.

A notable feature of the meeting was the declaration by Mr. Lindström that he firmly believed that the war would be won by the side that deserved to win because of the moral principles for which it stood.

President Will Speak Tonight in New York

Subject of Address Before Manhattan Club Will Be Administration's National Defense Program.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)
New York, Nov. 4.—President Wilson arrived here shortly after 3 o'clock today.

Washington, Nov. 4.—President Wilson will speak on national defense before the Manhattan club in New York tonight.

The speech, which marks the first public utterance of the president since the scope of the administration's national defense program became known, was awaited today with keen interest in official circles here.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)
Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—President Wilson, en route to New York to speak at the Manhattan club tonight, discussed the outcome of Tuesday's elections with Senator James of Kentucky, Thomas J. Pence, acting secretary of the Democratic national committee, and Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty. Senator James had just returned from Kentucky where he was of the informal conference on the president's private car no statement was added to the one issued last night by Mr. Pence in which a feeling of optimism was reflected.

Politically, however, members of the president's party said they were sure of Democratic victory in 1916 in Maryland, Massachusetts and Kentucky, the three states which elected governors Tuesday.

The Shafroth amendment would provide for an amendment to the constitution through suffrage referendum in the various states.

Suffrage leaders here believed that the announcement means the only suffrage amendment to be introduced this year would be in the form of the Susan B. Anthony amendment, which has been placed before every congress during the last forty-five years.
